Guidelines and Rules

Arriving at DataFest

DataFest will be held in the Ackerman ballroom in the heart of the UCLA campus. The Ackerman ballroom is on the 2nd floor of Ackerman Union. This is in grade E4 on the campus map.

Check-in begins Friday, April 28, at 3:00 pm and ends at 4:45pm. Each member of the team must register by showing a current university/college ID. The event will begin promptly at 5pm. If a team does not check in between 3pm and 4:45pm they will automatically be disqualified. At least one team member must be present to check in the team, though we highly encourage all team members to be present on opening day.

After Checking In

Once you've checked in, spend some time talking to some of our industry supporters at their booths in the ballroom. You can also pick up a t-shirt.

The opening ceremonies will be held promptly at 5pm in the Ackerman Ballroom. Here the data will be announced and you will receive your thumb drive with the data. In addition to the datasets, on your thumb drive you'll find documents that include the data challenge and documentation supporting the data (such as codebooks and descriptions of the data). We recommend you read them in this order and that all team members become well acquainted with these documents.

After the opening ceremonies, there will be food and you can get to work! One team member should download the data from a thumb drive and then share it with other team members. You will be given one thumb drive per team. You must return your thumb drive by 9pm to HQ as soon as you have transferred the data or your team will be disqualified.

DataFest Headquarters

DataFest HQ will be at a table just outside the ballroom. We will try to make sure that there is someone there at most times. Please report to DataFest HQ if you need help with anything, or if you have a concern.

Ground Rules

All work must end at 11:30am on Sunday. Follow instructions in your packet to make sure your presentation is delivered by 11:35am. Presentations must be in pdf format. See instructions below under "judging".

Teams may not split up to form new teams.

Announcements will be made via the DataFest slack channel which you will be invited to by April 28.

You are allowed to come and go as you please during DataFest, but you must not work on DataFest unless you are in the DataFest site (Ackerman Grand Ballroom). You can't take your work home with you, or collaborate with or ask help from people who are not in the building (unless they are approved virtual mentors). You can view the virtual mentor office hours on the slack channel.

If you have questions about the data: First, check the documentation. The location of this document will be given in your packet. If the question is not there, and a visiting mentor can't answer, then a Google document has been created that you can enter your question.

<https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1Ja9z0-3W2vJ3mRuQNF1nxHlhJL2g01VXHrH9Z8asHZ0/edit?usp=sharing>

An expert on the data will check it several times during the weekend. Understand that the question may not be answered in time for your work, and so you might have to do some investigative work on your own or make some assumptions to proceed. Please use professional language and standards when editing the document. The document is shared across several sites around the country.

You are responsible for bringing your own computer and software. We will provide power strips and wifi. Keep in mind that we may need to ask you to share power strips. Some students find it helpful to bring books and manuals.

Look for occasional "mini challenges". Through the slack channel we will pose small data challenges and a due date. From among those individuals who submit a valid solution, we'll randomly choose one or two to receive small prizes. (These mini challenges are for individuals, not teams.)

UCLA is a "smoke-free" campus. Smoking is not permitted anywhere on the grounds.

Wifi

A special wifi network has been created for our event called DataFest. All participants will have access to that network. If you have an UCLA account you can use UCLA_WIFI. If you're not from UCLA, you can access eduroam through your university credentials or use UCLA_WEB which is an open network.

Judging

Judging will happen in two phases. In the first phase you will be assigned to a presentation room and present to a panel of 2-3 judges. You are limited to just five minutes and two slides (plus a cover slide.) All presentations must be converted to pdf format. This means that no animations or web-based presentations will be allowed. Your pdf file should consist of three pages. The first page should be a title slide (presentation title, team name, team members), and then there should one content slide on each of the next pages.

In between the two judging sessions we will take a group photograph at 3:10pm at Kerckhoff Patio. Report back to the Ballroom afterwards.

All teams will then assemble in the Ballroom, and the judges will announce finalists in a random order. Three finalists are chosen from each first-round room. When a team is announced as a finalist, it will repeat its presentation before the judging panel. The judges will choose a winner and honorable mention in the categories of Best Insight, Best Visualization, and Best Use of External Data. Note that the judges will choose the category of prize that you win. The judges will also be allowed to give up to two Judges Choice awards for excellent work that does not fit into the pre-determined prize categories.

Your presentation must be received by 11:35 am on Sunday. To submit, please go to

https://bit.ly/DF2023_Presentations

You must deposit your presentation in the correct room folder. The first letter of your ID number (Team Number) on your badge indicates which room you'll be in.

Your filename MUST follow this format:

TeamNumberTeamName.pdf

The Team Number is given on your badge. It is the letter A, B, C, D or E followed by a number.

BEFORE THE DEADLINE: There is a "practice" folder at the above location for your team to make sure you can deposit files. Some people might find that they need to be granted "access", so be sure to practice well before the deadline (such as Friday evening) by depositing a pdf file into "Practice Deposit: Make sure you have access and can deposit a file", which you'll find by following the bit.ly link above.

Visiting VIP Mentors

Throughout the weekend, we'll have data science professionals visiting. These include graduate students, faculty, researchers, and professionals from various companies and institutions in the L.A. area. A schedule of who is visiting when will be kept at DF HQ. Visitors are not necessarily familiar with the data, but they have deep experience solving problems with data and make great sounding boards for trying out your ideas. If someone asks what you're doing, take a moment to describe the data and problem to them, and tell them what you're finding difficult. They can usually help!

Our visitors WANT to talk to you! Even if you don't have questions, you might want to learn more about what their work is like.

DataFest Spirit

DataFest began at UCLA in 2011 with thirty students, and has grown quickly to an international event with over 40 participating sites and over 4000 students. The purpose of DataFest is to give you an opportunity to learn with your friends, to meet new people, to discover new ideas, and to expand your skills. At times the pressure can be intense, but we hope you'll find the time to enjoy yourselves and meet new people.

DataFest is a friendly competition. If you get stuck on something, feel free to ask someone for help, even if they're not on your team. And if someone asks you a question, feel free to answer and help. DataFest is about learning and making connections. Sadly, not everyone will win a prize, but if you learn something new or do something that you didn't know you could do, then you've had a successful DataFest.

Submitting Your Presentation

- You must turn in your presentation by 11:30am on Sunday April 30.
- The ONLY acceptable format is a pdf file.
- You are allowed only two slides PLUS a cover slide. The cover slide can contain the team name and members' names. It will NOT be evaluated by the judges.
- Your presentation must be "named" with your badge NUMBER followed by your team name. Your badge number is on your badge. For example: A16. Nothing else should be in the title. For example: A16MyTeam.pdf
- Deposit your presentation in the google drive:

https://bit.ly/DF2023_Presentations

or

https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/16utbwzK5BrJKaHGRfg85ow2JxNDSrYFH?usp=share_link

Please place in appropriate folder. For example, if your team number begins with "B" place it in folder B.

BEFORE THE DEADLINE: There is a "practice" folder at the above location for your team to make sure you can deposit files. Some people might find that they need to be granted "access", so be sure to practice well before the deadline (such as Friday evening) by depositing a pdf file into "Practice Deposit: Make sure you have access and can deposit a file", which you'll find by following the bit.ly link above.

Judging

Your team should report to the appropriate room promptly at 1pm. All teams must be present for the presentations. The room assignments are determined by your badge number.

Badge Number Begins with...	Go to Room
A	Bruin Viewpoint Room, Ackerman Union A level
B	Kerckhoff Grand Salon - KH240
C	CS Young Hall CS24
D	CS Young Hall CS50
E	CS Young Hall CS76

In each room, the judges will select three finalists for a total of 16. ALL teams should report at 3:30pm to the Ackerman Ballroom. The finalists will be called in a random order to re-do their presentations in front of all students and the finalist judges.

Proprietary Statement

The data you will be given for DataFest are proprietary and are only to be used for the purposes of the American Statistical Association's DataFest.

By using this data, you agree to:

1. During participation in ASA's DataFest, store and manage the data securely and privately. This means you may NOT upload the data to websites that may provide access to the data to anyone other than yourselves. (For example, if using Tableau or Github, make sure privacy settings prevent others from seeing or accessing the data.) If you are not sure, then don't use that service! (Note: Rstudio Cloud does not have access to your data and so you can use it.)
2. Erase all data after your ASA's DataFest participation is complete.
3. Not identify or attempt to identify the information contained in the dataset, nor contact any of the individuals whose information is contained in the dataset.
4. Comply with all applicable U.S. federal and state laws and regulations relating to the maintenance of the dataset, the safeguarding of the confidentiality of the dataset, and the use and disclosure of the dataset.
5. Not publish results of your analysis of the data except that the final products of the competition (video, slide deck, one-page summary) may be displayed on team members' websites and on campus ASA DataFest websites.
6. Not share the data with anyone who is not a participant of ASA DataFest

Finally, please do NOT reveal the source of the data or any features of the data to ANYONE before April 29. This will ensure that all ASA DataFest participants around the globe have the same experience with the data as you. This means to not post anything to social media that might reveal clues, and to make sure that public github repositories are not discoverable (and if they are, that identifying work is removed). Finally, please do NOT reveal the source of the data or any features of the data to ANYONE.
